LOWELL BANK DEFALCATION.

Securities and Some Cash Recovered

From Abscouding Clerks. The Comptroller of the Currency re-ceived yesterday from Examiner Ewer a full report of the recent robbery of the Merchants' National Bank, of Lowell, Mass, by the late teller, Smith, and Book-keeper Swift, but declined to make the report public upon the ground that reports of national bank examiners are con-fidential communications to the Comptroller's office, and it is not the practic

o give them publicity.

The Comptroller stated, however, that the report shows that the teller and book the report shows that the teller and book-keeper attend the bank during the night and abstracted $8.810 in each, $86,230 of securities, and $400,00 of collaterals. All of these securities and $2.00 of the cash were recovered through the coursel for Smith and Swift, and the on-loss the bank appears to have sustained was about $15.00, which has been made good out of its surplus and undivided profits.

The examiner states that to arrests. The examiner states that no promises of immunity from panishment as a condition to the return of the cash and securities were made by the directors, and the facts have all been placed before the United States Attorney.

A Thorough Canvass of Washington to Secure Funds for the McKinley Memorial Proposed-Some Additions to the Executive Committee.

The Executive Committee of the McKinley National Memorial Arch Association met yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the office of the American Security and Trust Company. All the members of the committee were present, with the excepion of Charles C. Glover and Beriah Vilkins, Charles J. Bell presided, John Joy Edson reported, from the sub-ou:mittee, of which he was chairman, the ist of members of the District of Columbia Committee. Suggestions offered by various members of the Executive Com-mittee were given extended consideration, in order to ensure the complete fulfillment of the latter committee's purpose to secure the most public-spirited men in the District to take up the work. E. Southard Parker was unanimously hosen to act as chairman of the District of Columbia Committee and has accepted. By virtue of his office he becomes a memour of the National Executive Committee is well. Under his direction, immediately fier the organization of the committee is purposed to make a thorough canass of city and suburbs alike. Great hopes are entertained for the unqualified iccess of the appeal to the citizens of Washington, who knew President McKincy better than any community in the whole land, with the possible exception of his former townsmen of Canton.

It is held by the officers of the Arsocia-ion that little could be expected of the quatry at large if the residents of the Capital should display any hesitancy, however slight, in forwarding plans for such a magnificent national undertaking. The work of the local committee, thereore, is intended to be not only a notable nstance of celerity in raising funds, but worthy example to other sections of the country in the methods of work em-

Four additional members of the Executive Committee were nominated by the sub-committee, consisting of Mr. Mac-farland, Mr. Bell and Mr. Walsh, and were unanimously elected. In addition to E. S. Parker, by reason of his chairman-ship, they are General Miles, Admiral Dewey and Gen. H. V. Boynton, General Miles and Admiral Dewey had previously been tendered the honor of serving as national vice presidents, but on account of their residence here, as well as their high official station and estermed ability as counselors, their services in the deliberations of the National Executive Committee were deemed of great value, General Boynton was made chairman of the Press Committee and General Miles and Admiral Dewey are to be chairmen, respectively, of the Army and Navy Com-

The list of national vice presidents was further increased by the addition of General John M. Schofield, Commanderin-Chief of the Military Order of the Loyal Legion; J. Edwin Brown, Commander-in-Chief of the Union Veteran Legion, and R. St. George Dyrenforth. Commander-in-Chief of the Union Veter-ens Union. Other names are to be added o this list shortly. immediately to the vice presidents for the States and Territories, informing them f their selection and outlining plans for the prosecution of work in the Common-wealths in general, and more particularly in the large cities of the country. Upon the organization of State and local com-mittees, they will send out, in co-operation with sub-committees of the National Executive Committee, appeals to special lusses, such as fraternal societies, banks, ols and churches. Among the churches the aid of Dr. T. DeWitt Talmage is con-fidently counted upon for satisfactory re-

LEGACY AWAITS A WANDERER.

A Letter From Bukemia Describes

a Long-Missing Brother. A legacy awaits William Bauer, whor the police have been requested to locate Headquarters from a brother of the missing man, Franz Fred Bauer, employed in a glassworks near Adolf, Bohemia. This communication recites that William Bauer came to this country seventeen years ago since which time no word has been received from him. As it is not known that Bauer was ever in this city, or even in this part of the country, the police believe that they have a large contract on their hands.

CONDITIONS IN PORTO RICO.

An Interesting Lecture by the Rev. James Van Buren.

An interesting address on Porto Rico. Dustrated by a large number of beautiful stereopticon views, was delivered last night by the Rev. James Van Buren at Trinity Parish Hall, corner of Third Street and Indiana Avenue. Mr. Van Buren is a well-known Massachu-setis clergyman, recently appointed for missionary work in Porto Rico. In the course of his lecture the speaker tescribed the natural beauties of Porto Rico. He said that no words of mind can picture the beauty of San Juan. He spoke at some length of the American public school system being instaled in Porto Rico. Mr Van Buren states the Government is expending 100,099, which will educate nearly 50,099 children. He also referred to the charge in the sanitary condition in the cities effected by the American authorities.

Mr. Van Buren suggested the employment of Intelligent young men of Porto Rico is lay readers, under proper safeguard, and possibly of Porto Rican women as Bible teachers. After a while Mr. Van Buren believes, it will be found that a course of systematic divinity would prepare some of them for deacons orders. He continued:

"We plan to organize mission schools in the rural districts of Porto Rico as fast as our means will allow. In San Juan it is hoped to make the church the centre of mission work for the citize island. The church is fast becoming self-supporting." Rico. He said that no words of mind

First one thing and then another happened, however, which all went to show that the animals were not up to the standard of thoroughbred carriage horses, and certainly not worth the pice asked for them by Plas, Doerr & Carroll, of New York, who, after negotiations with Doughas Robinson, the President's brother-in-aw, shipped the three horses to Washington.

They arrived here on Monday, October 15. The Tollowing day they were examined by a veterinary. The fault most evident then was that the shoes on their hoofs were badly fitted. When they were removed it was found that two of the horses had corns at that time the President was so busy that he was unable to sirive behind the horses, or even look them over.
